

Add Leftlane to your RSS feed!

Diatto Ottovu Zagato headed for Geneva

Coachbuilder Zagato has released the first image of its latest creation, the Diatto Ottovu Zagato. The car will be unveiled at the Geneva Motor Show next month, powered by a supercharged Maserati V8.

The project was commissioned to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Diatto brand. Back in 1921, Ugo Zagato designed a lightweight and aerodynamic body for the Diatto 25 4DS chassis. Zagato has not said what vehicle it used as the basis for this new car, but it appears to share proportions with the Jaguar XK. More information is expected in the coming weeks.

Filed in "Industry/General",

HEADLINES

- Chrysler CEO mum on de-merger rumors
- tres
- Report: Honda back to the drawing board for new NSX
- Spied: 2008 Saab 9-3 Convertible facelift
- KTM reveals completed X-Bow prototype
- Analysts say 50/50 chance for GM-Chrysler tie-up
- 2008 Audi S5 unveiled
- 2008 Maserati GranTurismo debuts
- 2008 Audi A5 revealed
- Opel to unveil new concept in Geneva